1. ELECTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Fund's Board of Directors is comprised of individuals with considerable and varied business experiences, backgrounds, skills, and qualifications who collectively have a strong knowledge of business and financial matters and are committed to helping the Fund achieve its investment objective while acting in the best interests of the Fund's shareholders. Several members of the Board have had a long and continued service with the Fund. As noted in the table below, the nominees bring a variety of experiences and qualifications through their business backgrounds in the fields of accounting, consulting and strategic planning, entertainment, business journalism, and senior corporate management of a manufacturing corporation. The Board believes that each particular nominee's financial and business experience give him the qualifications and skills to serve as a director.

At the Meeting, six directors are to be elected to serve until the next annual meeting of shareholders or until their successors are duly elected and qualified. The holders of the Preferred Stock, as a separate class, are entitled to elect two directors, and the holders of Common Stock, as a separate class, are entitled to elect the remaining directors. Shares of both classes have cumulative voting rights, which means that, with regard to the election of directors only, each shareholder has the right to cast a number of votes equal to the number of shares owned multiplied by the number of directors to be elected by that class of stock, and each shareholder may cast the whole number of votes for one candidate or distribute such votes among candidates as such shareholder chooses. Unless otherwise instructed, the proxy holders intend to vote proxies received by them for the six nominees named below, reserving the right, however, to cumulate such votes in each class and distribute them among nominees at the discretion of the proxy holders. The affirmative votes of a majority of the shares of each class present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting are required to elect each director to be elected by that class. The following table sets forth certain information regarding each nominee for election as director. Except for Patrick B. Purcell, all of the nominees are incumbent directors. Mr. Purcell has been nominated by the Board to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of a current director, Lawrence J. Sheehan, effective as of the date of the Meeting.

Should any nominee for director withdraw or otherwise become unavailable for reasons not presently known, it is intended that the proxy holders will vote for the election of such other person or persons as the Board of Directors may designate.

The Board of Directors has designated the members identified by footnote (1) to the preceding table, in addition to Lawrence J. Sheehan, as the Audit Committee of the Board. All members of the Audit Committee are “independent,” as that term is defined in the applicable listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange (“NYSE”). No member is considered an “interested person” of the Fund within the meaning of the 1940 Act. The Audit Committee makes recommendations to the Board of Directors concerning the selection of the Fund’s independent registered public accounting firm and reviews with such firm the results of the annual audit, including the scope of auditing procedures, the adequacy of internal controls and compliance by the Fund with the accounting, recording, and financial reporting requirements of the 1940 Act. In each instance, before an accountant has been engaged by the Fund, the engagement has been approved by the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee met four times during the last fiscal year. Willard H. Altman, Jr., Thomas P. Merrick and Lawrence J. Sheehan, each a member of the Audit Committee of the Fund, also serve as a member of the Audit Committees of FPA Capital Fund, Inc., FPA New Income, Inc., FPA Paramount Fund, Inc., FPA Perennial Fund, Inc., and FPA Funds Trust’s FPA Crescent Fund, all of which are registered open-end investment companies. FPA is the investment adviser of the Fund and each of the registered open-end investment companies named above. The Board of Directors of the Fund, at a meeting held on August 3, 2009, considered the matter of simultaneous service, and determined that Messrs. Altman’s, Merrick’s and Sheehan’s simultaneous service as a member of those Audit Committees does not impair their ability to serve on the Audit Committee of the Fund. The responsibilities of the Audit Committee are set forth in the Audit Committee Charter, which is available on the Fund’s website, www.fpafunds.com, and is available without charge, upon request, by calling (800) 982-4372.

The Board recommends that shareholders vote FOR the nominated directors.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

To the Board of Directors
of Source Capital, Inc.:

February 5, 2010

Our Committee has reviewed and discussed with management of the Fund and Deloitte & Touche LLP, the independent registered public accounting firm of the Fund, the audited financial statements of the Fund as of December 31, 2009, and the financial highlights for the year then ended (the “Audited Financial Statements”). In addition, we have discussed with Deloitte & Touche LLP the matters required by Codification of Statements on Auditing Standards No. 114 regarding communications with audit committees.

The Committee also has received and reviewed the written disclosures and the letter from Deloitte & Touche LLP required by Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) Ethics and Independence Rule 3526 (Communication with Audit Committees Concerning Independence), and we have discussed with that firm its independence from the Fund. We also have discussed with management of the Fund and the independent registered public accounting firm such other matters and received such assurances from them as we deemed appropriate.

Management is responsible for the Fund’s internal controls and the financial reporting process. Deloitte & Touche LLP is responsible for performing an independent audit of the Fund’s financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and issuing a report thereon. The Committee’s responsibility is to monitor and oversee these processes.

Based on the foregoing review and discussions and a review of the report of Deloitte & Touche LLP with respect to the Audited Financial Statements, and relying thereon, we have recommended to the Fund’s Board of Directors the inclusion of the Audited Financial Statements in the Fund’s Annual Report to Shareholders for the year ended December 31, 2009, for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Audit Committee:

David Rees, Chairman
Willard H. Altman, Jr.
Thomas P. Merrick
Paul G. Schloemer
Lawrence J. Sheehan

The Board of Directors has designated the members identified by footnote (2) to the preceding table, in addition to Lawrence J. Sheehan, as the Corporate Responsibility Committee. All members of the Corporate Responsibility Committee are “independent,” as that term is defined in the applicable listing standards of the NYSE. No member is considered an “interested person” of the Fund within the meaning of the 1940 Act. The Corporate Responsibility Committee recommends to the full Board of Directors nominees for election as directors of the Fund to fill vacancies on the Board, when and as they occur. While the Corporate Responsibility Committee expects to be able to identify from its own resources an ample number of qualified candidates, it will review recommendations from shareholders of persons to be considered as nominees to fill future vacancies. The determination of nominees recommended by the Corporate Responsibility Committee is within the sole discretion of the Corporate Responsibility Committee, and the final selection of nominees is within the sole discretion of the Board. Therefore, no assurance can be given that persons recommended by shareholders will be nominated as directors. The responsibilities of the Corporate Responsibility Committee are set forth in the Corporate Responsibility Committee Charter, a copy of which was attached as Exhibit B in the Fund’s 2008 proxy statement for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. The Corporate Responsibility Committee met three times during the last fiscal year.

The Corporate Responsibility Committee is responsible for searching for director candidates that meet the evolving needs of the Board of Directors. Director candidates must have the highest personal and professional ethics and integrity. Additional criteria weighed by the Corporate Responsibility Committee in the director identification and selection process include the relevance of a candidate’s experience in investment company and/or public company businesses, enterprise or business leadership and managerial experience, broad economic and policy knowledge, the candidate’s independence from conflict or direct economic relationship with the Fund, financial literacy and knowledge, and the candidate’s ability and willingness to devote the proper time to prepare for, attend and participate in discussions in meetings. The Committee also takes into account whether a candidate satisfies the criteria for independence under the rules and regulations of the 1940 Act and of the NYSE, and if a nominee is sought for service on the Audit Committee, the financial and accounting expertise of a candidate, including whether the candidate would qualify as an Audit Committee financial expert. While the Corporate Responsibility Committee does not have a formal policy respecting diversity on the Board of Directors, consideration is given to nominating persons with different perspectives and experience to enhance the deliberation and decision-making processes of the Board of Directors.

During 2009, the Board of Directors held five meetings. Each director attended more than 75% of the aggregate of (1) the total number of meetings of the Board of Directors and (2) the total number of meetings held by all Committees of the Board on which they served. All of the directors attended the Fund’s prior year’s annual meeting.

Corporate Governance

As noted above, the Fund has adopted a charter for both its Audit Committee and Corporate Responsibility Committee. The Board has also adopted a Code of Ethics, which applies to, among others, all of the Fund’s officers and directors, as well as a Code of Ethics for Senior Executive and Financial Officers that applies to and has been signed by all officers of the Fund, including the Principal Executive Officer and Principal Financial Officer of the Fund. These materials are available on the website of the Securities and Exchange Commission, www.sec.gov, or without charge, upon request, by calling (800) 982-4372.

The Board of Directors and Its Leadership Structure

The Board of Directors has general oversight responsibility with respect to the Fund’s business and affairs. Although the Board has delegated day-to-day oversight to the Adviser, all Fund operations are supervised by the Fund’s Board, which meets quarterly.

The Board is currently composed of six directors, including five directors who are not “interested persons” of the Fund, as that term is defined in the 1940 Act (each an “Independent Director”). The Board holds executive sessions (with and without partners and/or employees of the Adviser) in connection with its regularly scheduled Board meetings, and the Independent Directors frequently correspond with each other in between meetings to discuss specific matters that may require attention at or prior to the Board’s next regularly scheduled meeting. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors meets quarterly at regularly scheduled meetings and the Corporate Responsibility Committee meets at least twice a year. The Independent Directors have retained “independent legal counsel” as defined in the 1940 Act.

The Board has not appointed a Chairman of the Board. J. Richard Atwood, Treasurer of the Fund and an interested person, acts as chairman at meetings of the Board (other than executive sessions). In such a capacity, Mr. Atwood also initiates the preparation of the agenda for Board meetings (with input from the Independent Directors), determines which matters need to be acted upon by the Board, and seeks to ensure that the Board obtains all the information necessary to perform its functions and take actions. Mr. Atwood also acts, with the assistance of staff, as a liaison with service providers, officers, attorneys, and the Independent Directors between meetings. The Board has determined that formally designating an Independent Director to serve as Chairman of the Board or “lead” Independent Director is not desirable at the present time. Rather, the Board believes that it is in the best interests of the Fund to review these determinations from time to time based upon the then-existing position and direction of the Fund and the membership of the Board. Considering its present composition, the Board believes that its current structure ensures a greater shared role for the Independent Directors in the oversight of the Fund’s business and affairs and active participation of the Independent Directors in helping to set agendas and establish Board priorities and procedures.

The Board of Directors has delegated day-to-day Fund management and risk oversight to the Adviser, which is responsible for managing all Fund operations and the Fund's risk management processes. The Board oversees the processes implemented by the Adviser or other service providers to manage relevant risks and considers risk management issues as part of its responsibilities throughout the year at regular meetings. The Audit Committee also considers risk management issues affecting the Fund's financial reporting and controls at its regular meetings throughout the year. The Adviser and other service providers prepare regular reports for Board and Audit Committee meetings that address a variety of risk-related matters, and the Board as a whole or the Audit Committee may also receive special written reports or presentations on a variety of risk issues at their request. For example, the portfolio managers of the Fund meet regularly with the Board to discuss portfolio performance, including investment risk, counterparty risk and the impact on the Fund of investments in particular securities. The Adviser also prepares reports for the Board regarding various issues, including valuation and liquidity.

The Board has also appointed a chief compliance officer ("CCO") for the Fund. The CCO reports directly to the Board and participates in the meetings of the Board. The Independent Directors meet quarterly in executive session with the CCO, and the CCO prepares and presents periodic written compliance reports which update compliance activities to date and results thereon. Additionally, the CCO presents an annual report to the Board in accordance with the Fund's compliance policies and procedures. The CCO would report any material risk, should it arise to the Board. The CCO is also the CCO of the Adviser.

Shareholders wishing to communicate with the Board may do so by sending a written communication to the Secretary of the Fund, at the following address: 11400 West Olympic Boulevard, Suite 1200, Los Angeles, California 90064-1550.

The Fund's directors and officers are required to file reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the NYSE concerning their ownership and changes in ownership of the Fund's Common and Preferred Stock. Based on its review of such reports, the Fund believes that all filing requirements were met by its directors and officers during 2009.

During 2009, the Fund did not pay any salaries directly to officers but paid an investment advisory fee to FPA. The following information relates to director compensation. During 2009, each director who was not an interested person of FPA was compensated by the Fund at the rate of $20,000 per year plus a fee of $1,750 per day for Board of Directors meetings attended, $1,250 per day for Committee meetings attended that are held on a day other than a Board meeting, and a fee of $500 per day for Special Board of Directors or Committee meetings held and attended via telephone conference. Effective January 1, 2010, each director who is not an interested person of FPA is compensated by the Fund at the rate of $22,000 per year plus a fee of $2,000 per day for Board of Directors meetings attended, a fee of $500 per day to the Chairman of the Audit and Chairman of the Corporate Responsibility Committees for Committee meetings attended, a fee of $1,250 per day for Committee meetings attended on a day other than a Board meeting, and $500 per day for Special Board of Directors or Committee meetings held and attended via telephone conference. The five directors who were not interested persons of FPA received total directors' fees of $135,000 for 2009. Each such director is also reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses incurred as a director.

It provides investment management and advisory services to the Fund pursuant to an investment advisory agreement, dated October 1, 2006 (“Advisory Agreement”), the continuation of which was approved by shareholders of the Company on May 4, 2009. The Advisory Agreement provides that it may be renewed from year to year by (i) the Board of Directors of the Fund or by the vote of a majority (as defined in the Act) of the outstanding voting securities of the Fund, and (ii) by the vote of a majority of Independent Board Members cast in person at a meeting called for the purpose of voting on such approval. The continuance of the Advisory Agreement through April 30, 2011, has been approved by the Board of Directors and by a majority of the Independent Board Members. The Board of Directors recommends approval by shareholders of such continuance. Such approval requires the affirmative vote of (a) 67% or more of the voting securities represented at the meeting, if more than 50% of the outstanding voting securities are present or represented by proxy, or (b) more than 50% of all outstanding voting securities, whichever is less.

Under the Advisory Agreement, the Fund retains the Adviser to manage the investment of the Fund’s assets, including the placing of orders for the purchase and sale of portfolio securities. The Adviser agrees to obtain and evaluate economic, statistical and financial information to formulate and implement the Fund’s investment programs. In addition to providing management and investment advisory services, the Adviser furnishes office space, facilities, and equipment. It also compensates all officers and other personnel of the Fund except directors who are not affiliated with the Adviser.

For providing these services, the Adviser receives a monthly fee equal to 1/12 of the annualized percentage indicated below of total net assets. The annualized percentage is determined by the total net assets of the Fund on the last business day of each month, in accordance with the following table:

- 0.725% for the first $100 million of total net assets;
- 0.700% for the next $100 million of total net assets; and
- 0.675% for the total net assets over $200 million.

This fee is higher than the fee paid by some other investment companies. For 2009, the Adviser received $2,867,095 in advisory fees from the Company. The Fund’s average net assets during the fiscal year were $413,404,727. The total net assets of the Fund were $490,042,573 on December 31, 2009.

The Adviser provides, at its expense, personnel to serve as officers of the Fund and office space, facilities, and equipment for managing the affairs of the Fund. All other expenses incurred in the operation of the Fund are borne by the Fund. Expenses incurred by the Fund include brokerage commissions on portfolio transactions, fees and expenses of directors who are not affiliated with the Adviser, taxes, transfer agent fees, dividend disbursement and reinvestment and custodian fees, auditing and legal fees, the cost of printing and mailing reports and proxy materials to shareholders, expenses of printing and engraving stock certificates, expense of trade association memberships, and advertising and public relations expenses. No advertising or public relations expenses have been incurred by the Fund except in connection with shareholder relations and shareholder communications.

The Advisory Agreement includes a provision for a reduction in the advisory fees payable to the Adviser in the amount by which certain defined operating expenses of the Fund for any fiscal year exceed 1.5% of the first $30 million of average total net assets of the Fund, plus 1% of the remaining average total net assets. Operating expenses, as defined in the Advisory Agreement, exclude interest, taxes, any expenditures for supplemental statistical and research information, any uncapitalized legal expenses relating to specific portfolio securities or any proposed acquisition or disposition thereof, and extraordinary expenses such as those of litigation, merger, reorganization, or recapitalization. All expenditures, including costs incurred in connection with the purchase, holding, or sale of portfolio securities, which are capitalized in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to investment companies, are accounted for as capital items and not as expenses. This expense limitation provision does not require any payment by the Adviser beyond the return of the advisory fees for a fiscal year.

The Advisory Agreement provides that the Adviser shall have no liability to the Fund or any shareholders of the Fund for any error of judgment, mistake of law, or any loss arising out of any investment, or for any other act or omission in the performance by the Adviser of its duties under the Advisory Agreement, except for liability resulting from willful misfeasance, bad faith, or negligence on the part of the Adviser or the reckless disregard of its duties under the Advisory Agreement. The Advisory Agreement may be terminated without penalty by the Board of Directors of the Fund or the vote of a majority (as defined in the Act) of the outstanding voting securities of the Fund upon 60 days’ written notice to the Adviser or by the Adviser upon like notice to the Fund. The Advisory Agreement will automatically terminate in the event of its assignment, as that term is defined in the Act.

In determining whether to renew the Advisory Agreement, the Independent Board Members met separately to evaluate information provided by the Adviser in accordance with the 1940 Act and to determine their recommendation to the full Board of Directors. The following paragraphs summarize the material information and factors considered by the Board of Directors at a meeting held on February 1, 2010, as well as their conclusions relative to such factors.

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services. The Board considered information regarding the Adviser and its staffing in connection with the Fund, including the Fund's portfolio managers and the senior analyst on their team, the scope of accounting, administrative, shareholder, and other services supervised and provided by the Adviser, and the absence of any significant service problems reported to the Board. The Board noted the experience, length of service, and the reputation of the Fund's portfolio managers, Eric Ende and Steven Geist, who have managed the Fund since 1996. The directors concluded that the nature, extent, and quality of services provided by the Adviser have benefited and should continue to benefit the Fund and its shareholders.

Investment Performance. The directors reviewed the overall investment performance of the Fund. They also received information from an independent consultant, Lipper Analytical Services, Inc. ("Lipper"), regarding the Fund's performance relative to a peer group of other value funds selected by Lipper (the "Peer Group"). The directors noted the Fund's competitive longer-term investment performance when compared to the Peer Group. They further concluded that the Adviser's continued management of the Fund should benefit the Company and its shareholders.

Advisory Fees and Company Expenses; Adviser Profitability; Economies of Scale and Sharing of Economies of Scale. The directors were provided information by the Adviser to enable consideration of the Fund's advisory fees and total expense levels, as well as the overall profitability of the Adviser, the benefits to the Adviser from its relationship to the Fund, the extent to which economies of scale with respect to the management of the Fund, if any, would be realized, and whether the Fund is sharing, or will share, in those economies.

The directors reviewed comparative information relative to fees and expenses for the mutual Fund industry generally and for the Peer Group. The directors noted that the Fund's fees and expenses were at the lower end of the range for the Peer Group. The directors noted that the overall expense ratio of the Fund was also at the lower end of the range when compared to the Peer Group. The directors noted that the fee rate charged to the Fund at its current asset level is similar to the fee rate charged by the Adviser on the other products managed in a similar style by the portfolio managers. The directors concluded that the overall fee rate was reasonable and fair to the Fund and its shareholders in light of the nature and quality of the services provided by the Adviser. The directors considered whether there have been economies of scale with respect to the management of the Fund, whether the Fund has appropriately benefited from any economies of scale, and whether the fee rate is reasonable in relation to the Fund's assets and any economies of scale that may exist. The directors discussed the fact that the fee structure does not have any additional breakpoints. The mutual fund industry has trended toward companies having breakpoints in the advisory fee structure as a means by which to share in economies of scale as a company's assets grow; however, not all funds have breakpoints in their fee structures. The Adviser stated its belief that additional breakpoints currently were not appropriate for the Fund and that no meaningful income and expense forecasts for its business could be prepared given uncertainties regarding the direction of the economy, rising inflation, increasing costs for personnel and systems, and growth (or not) in the Fund's assets, all of which could negatively impact the Adviser. In addition, since the Fund is a closed-end fund, and based upon the Fund's current operating policies, the ability to raise additional assets is limited. The directors noted that the Adviser had not increased the fee rate charged to the Fund despite the Adviser's claims of increases in the Adviser's internal costs of providing investment management services to the Fund, in part due to administrative burdens and expenses resulting from recent legislative and regulatory actions such as Sarbanes-Oxley. According to the Adviser, such increased costs have included a significant investment in a new analyst who assists with the management of the Fund, additions to administrative personnel and systems that enhance the quality of services provided to the Fund and the establishment of a full-time Chief Compliance Officer and his assistant. The directors also noted that asset levels of the Fund are currently lower than they were three years ago, yet the Adviser has continued to make investments in personnel servicing the Fund.

Conclusions. The directors determined that the Fund continues to benefit from the services of a highly experienced portfolio management team that has produced competitive long-term returns. In addition, the directors agreed that the Fund continues to receive high quality accounting, administrative, shareholder, and other ancillary services from the Adviser. The directors acknowledged that there is no uniform industry methodology to measure or apply economies of scale. The directors determined that the Fund's expense ratio, the overall profitability of the Adviser, and the sharing of economies of scale with the Fund are fair and reasonable under the current circumstances. In reaching their conclusions, the directors acknowledged that the fees and expenses of the Fund are clearly disclosed in the Fund's reports to shareholders and in industry research databases, such as those maintained by Lipper and Morningstar, and that the Fund's shareholders have ready access to other companies with different strategies, fees, and expenses and can sell their shares at any time if they feel the Adviser does not add fair value for the fees and expenses charged. The directors also stated their intention to continue monitoring the factors relevant to the Adviser's compensation, such as changes in the Fund's asset levels, changes in portfolio management personnel, and the cost and quality of the services provided by the Adviser to the Fund. On the basis of the foregoing, and without assigning particular weight to any single factor, the directors determined to approve the continuation of the current Advisory Agreement for another one-year period, and recommends that shareholders approve such continuation.

Portfolio Transactions and Brokerage

Under the Advisory Agreement, the Adviser makes decisions to buy and sell securities for the Fund, selects broker-dealers and negotiates commission rates or net prices. Equity securities are generally traded on an agency basis. For fixed-income securities traded in the over-the-counter market, orders are placed directly with a principal market maker, unless it is believed better prices and executions are available elsewhere, generally on an agency basis. Portfolio transactions are effected with broker-dealers selected for their abilities to give prompt execution at prices favorable to the Fund. In selecting broker-dealers and in negotiating commissions, the Adviser considers: the best net price available; each firm's reliability, integrity and financial condition; the size of and difficulty in executing the order; and the value of the firm's expected contribution to the Fund's investment performance on a continuing basis. Accordingly, the net price to the Fund in any transaction may be less favorable than that available from another broker-dealer if the difference is reasonably justified by other aspects of its services. Subject to policies determined by the Fund's Board of Directors, the Adviser shall not be deemed to have acted unlawfully or to have breached any duty created by the Advisory Agreement or otherwise solely because the Fund paid a broker-dealer providing brokerage and research services commissions for effecting a transaction in excess of the commission another broker-dealer would have charged for the same transaction. The Adviser must determine in good faith that such commission was reasonable relative to the value of the brokerage and research services provided, considering either that particular transaction or the Adviser's overall responsibilities to the Fund. The Adviser is further authorized to allocate orders it places for the Fund to broker-dealers providing products or services that assist in making investment decisions. The Adviser allocates the amounts and proportions of such costs and regularly reports on such allocations to the Fund's Board of Directors.

The Advisory Agreement includes direct authorization for the Adviser to pay commissions on securities transactions to broker-dealers furnishing research services in an amount higher than the lowest available rate, if the Adviser determines in good faith that the amount is reasonable in relation to the brokerage and research services provided (as required by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934), viewed in terms of the particular transaction or the Adviser's overall responsibilities with respect to accounts as to which it exercises investment discretion. The term brokerage and research services is defined to include advice as to the value of securities, the advisability of investing in, purchasing or selling securities, the availability of securities or purchasers or sellers of securities, furnishing analyses and reports concerning issuers, industries, securities, economic factors and trends, portfolio strategy and performance of accounts, and effecting securities transactions, and performing functions incidental thereto, such as clearance, settlement, and custody.

The Adviser also places portfolio transactions for other advisory accounts, including other investment companies. Research services furnished by broker-dealers that effect securities transactions for the Fund may be used by the Adviser in servicing all of its advisory accounts and not all such research services may be used by the Adviser in the management of the Fund's portfolio. Conversely, research services furnished by broker-dealers that effect securities transactions for other advisory accounts may be used by the Adviser in the management of the Fund. In the opinion of the Adviser, it is not possible to measure separately the benefits from research services to each advisory account. Because the volume and nature of the trading activities of the advisory accounts are not uniform, the amount of commissions in excess of the lowest available rate paid by each advisory account for brokerage and research services will vary. In the opinion of the Adviser, however, total commissions paid by the Fund are not disproportionate to the benefits received by it on a continuing basis. During 2009, brokerage commissions paid by the Fund totaled $116,020 of which $91,072 was paid on transactions having a total value of $46,025,404 to broker-dealers selected because of research services provided to the Adviser.

The Adviser seeks to allocate portfolio transactions equitably whenever concurrent decisions are made to purchase or sell securities for the Fund and another advisory account. In some cases, this procedure could have an adverse effect on the price or the amount of securities purchased or sold by the Fund. In making such allocations, the main factors considered by the Adviser are the respective investment objectives, the relative size of portfolio holdings of the same or comparable securities, the availability of cash for investment, the size of investment commitments generally held, and the opinions of the persons responsible for recommending the investment.
